

Many properties have data on their wells posted at the Well Database through Mass.gov

The Well Data Base link is:

<https://eeaonline.eea.state.ma.us/portal#!/search/welldrilling>

Please note additional info on the EEA Data Portal from Mass.gov/service-details/well-database:

EEA Data Portal

When using the EEA Data Portal there are various ways you can search for well data. You can search for wells by: City/Town, Well ID, well type, date range or work performed.

It must be understood that this data is "as-is" and while we make an effort to maintain quality, the data has been provided to a great extent from cards which had been submitted to the Program and then entered by hand. These cards date back to 1962. Recently, records have been entered electronically by the drillers themselves.

The new version of the database has discontinued the mapping portion in order to improve the location information for the wells. The information that is collected on the well forms has changed several times since 1962; a Latitude and Longitude has only been required for about the last 15 years. A future phase of this project will include tracking down the location data for the tens of thousands of wells without that information.